BONFIRE RALLY PLANS MADE

Honor Society Is Organized For Students

Committee Plans Association For All "A" Scholars

Students Rating "B" Average Eligible For Membership

As a preliminary step towards affiliation with some national educational honor society, the Scholarship Committee is preparing to form an Honor Society at S. T. C.

The following students, because they have earned an honor scholarship classification, will be eligible for membership:

Frances Arenson, Helen Barnett, May Berry, Alice Breheny, Marcia Broadhead, Edna Browning, Eleanor Burch, Elsie Carlson, May Conway, Dorothy Dalton, Elinor Davis, Almy Downey, Wainetta Gardner, Eva Graham, Ruth Guiland, Grace Hackett, Elizabeth Hall, Marie Hanley, Valma Harms, Saima Hartikka, Yukiko Hata, Ruth Haydon, Ruth Hendon, Ruby Horn, Lloyd Hughes, Muriel Jacobs, Helen Jorgensen, Annie Kael, Grace Kaufner, Mary Kennett, Minnie Kern, Beatrice King, Ruth Knoph, Gertrude Kraus, Priscilla Lehmann, Sadie Lopesco, Jane Ludlow, Ruth Lunt, Essie McCaw, Sarah Mason, Margaret Meng, Frances Miser, Gertrude Olsson, Ruth Overfield, Kathleen O'Farrell, Edna Pageler, Alice Palacios, Alice Parr, Ruth Passow, Sister M. de Chanta, Mary Perz, Charlotte Pfeuffer, Helen Richardson, Ethel Riley, Ethel Rosen, Meredith Rowell, Fay Salamon, Marcelite Seba, Frieda Stasulat, Ella Stinson, Alma Sturgeon, Esther Wacholder, Vivian Walsh, and Norma Wendt.

Honor status is attained when the student has received a ranking that would place him in Class B twice consecutively. A student may thus become an honor student at the opening of his third semester. Loss of honor status results in case a student falls below Class B ranking after attaining honor status.

Club Sees Exhibit

The Art Club, sponsored by Mrs. Cooch, visited Rudolph Schaeffer's studio, Saturday January 24. An interesting exhibit of lacquered trays, panels, celophane flowers, and modernist pictures was given.

The display was very modern, colorful, and beautifully done, and it shows the high degree of perfection attained by the students under the guidance of Mr. Schaeffer.

The Art Club visited and sketched Jones street.

Petey the Pedagogue Says:

Candid college co-eds claim cheerfully, "Criticism can't change cutting conditions; calamity can't conquer cutting charms. Collegians calmly continue cutting classes"

Sport Officials Are Presented At Mass Pep Meeting

Not long ago an assembly was held to introduce the officers of the student body to the new students. Today, the first pep rally of the semester took place in the gym, and the important officials in the sport world of the college were presented to the assembled men and women.

Allan Wyatt, general athletic manager, was chairman of the pep assembly. He was introduced by Viola Giesen, chairman of student body assemblies. Dr. Alexander Roberts, president of the college, added a few words of encouragement for the activities. The speaker of the day was David J. Cox, Dean of Men, told of his hopes for the teams. Then the following managers of the teams were presented: Arthur Rosenbaum, first assistant manager; James Stinchcomb, second assistant athletic manager; Sidney Trager, basketball manager; Jess Fisher, first assistant basketball manager; Lawrence Christiansen, second assistant manager; Lewis DuFour, track manager; Richard Bordeaux, first assistant manager; Harry Rogie, tennis manager; Bill Connolly, football manager; and Frank Howard, swimming manager. For the first time this semester, all yells and songs were tested with the healthy lungs of the State boosters.

The rally was held at ten o'clock. All classes were excused, and the entire student body and faculty were invited.

Speakers To Address Parent-Faculty Club

When the Parent-Faculty Club holds its regular meeting Wednesday, February 4, 1931, at two o'clock, there will be three speakers from three different organizations to address the members. Through the efforts of the president of the club, Mrs. Florence Barbieri, there will be a representative from the San Francisco State Teachers' College faculty, one from the Alumnae Association, and one from the California Congress of Parent and Teachers.

Faculty Represented

Dr. P. F. Valentine, professor of education, will represent the faculty, and Mrs. H. H. Gadd, chairman of Founders' Day, of the Second District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers will also speak. The third speaker will be from the Alumnae Association. The meeting will be especially interesting as the Parent-Faculty Club is celebrating Founders' Day, and this naturally necessitates special addresses.

Tea Will Be Given

The Glee Club, which is sponsored by Miss Eva Levy, has invited the members of the Parent-Faculty Club to be their guests at a formal tea after the business meeting. Louise Mico, of the Glee Club, will be in charge of the affair. The freshmen are especially urged to inform their mothers of this club, and to invite them to join.

Campus Has Visitor

Mr. Roland Vandegrift, state director of finance, paid S. T. C. a surprise visit Monday, January 26. Mr. Vandegrift spent an hour on the campus inspecting the grounds and buildings. He was able to gain first-hand impressions of the growth and the needs of S. T. C.

GOLDEN GATERS SUGGESTED AS SYMBOL FOR STATE COLLEGE

GOLDEN GATERS

"Eat 'em up 'Gaters!"

Much interest and many comments were extracted from the students and faculty of S. F. S. T. C. by the appearance of the Golden Panther in last week's "Bay Leaf" and the suggestion that it be adopted as mascot for the college. Although many disagreed on the suitability of the animal for the task, all agreed that the college has reached the stage where a representative symbol is desirable. Another animal has been proposed as being a fitting one for the position, the alligator.

The newly suggested animal is strong; we hope our teams will contain great strength. It is well-built; our student body firmly based will become renown. It is steadfast, moving ever steadily towards its goal. Selected to represent our college, it will be capable of bringing honor both to the students and faculty.

We would like our mascot in some way to typify to strangers not only who we are but where our college is situated. Living in a community where animals are few and far between, it would be extremely difficult to choose a representative one for our purpose. San Francisco however, is often called "The City of the Golden Gate." It can be represented by a selection.

Why not adopt for our college and colors the alligator with its long powerful jaw set with strong teeth and with his armored skin? Is it not a honorable mascot and could not our teams forge ahead to victory with a name such as the GOLDEN GATERS?

We put the suggestion before the students and faculty of the college in hope that we may arrive upon one approved by a majority. The matter will be voted upon by the student body and then the matter will be settled definitely for all time. Meanwhile all ideas should be duly discussed and thought over. Present your suggestion before the college and let them judge. Will we be panthers, alligators, or some unknown? It is for you to decide.

Exams. In Statutory Subjects On Feb. 9 For Education 130

According to the policy adopted by the faculty last semester, general examinations in the statutory subjects will be given on February 7, at 9:00 o'clock, in room 211. The taking of these tests is a prerequisite to Education 130, and the satisfactory completion of this work is a prerequisite to Practice Teaching.

Those who must take this test are:

(1) All freshmen who entered August 1929 and who are working toward any teaching credential; (2) all transfer students who have completed 45 units or more, and who have not graduated from some Normal School or Teachers' College; and (3) all graduates of a University holding the A. B. degree who are doing Practice Teaching this semester or who intend to teach next semester.

College Students Instruct Puppetry

Every Friday night at the Chinese Y. W. C. A., Stockton and Sacramento Streets, a group of Chinese girls, under the leadership of Mary Chaquette and Meda Fuggitt, are learning to make and manipulate puppets.

The Chinese girls are very much interested in this new type of recreation and look forward to Friday nights with anticipation. Last term the girls were instructed in dramatics as well as in games and folk dancing. This group, formed with the intention of being a purely social organization, is now busily at work with puppets. The class started with eight girls and now has an average attendance of eighteen. Mary Chaquette, with the help of the whole group, is planning a very unique Valentine's Party.

Sport Dance To Be First Social Event Freshmen Class

Extensive plans are being made and carried out by the low freshman class for the usual sport dance, sometimes known as the Freshman Hop. The dance will be given in the college gym February 13, and President Bob Peterson hopes to see the majority of the student body there.

Leonard Christensen, freshman yell leader, is in charge of the dance, and has appointed various committees. The list of committees include the finance committee, Barbara Larsen and Bob Petersen; the advertisement committee, Jack Johnson, Frances Merrill, and Stan Smith; the refreshments, Dorothy Tuttle; the decorations committee, Marion Apathy, Betty Hathaway, Ed Sampson, Catherine Shepard, and Gene Wall; the program committee, Al Crawford and J. Thompson; the orchestra committee, Jake Bumgardner, M. Nicholson, and Norm Parrish. Two hundred bids of one dollar each will be sold.

"If the freshman class will really support the dance and if the rest of the student body will co-operate, the dance will certainly be a success," says president Bob Peterson.

Social Plans Made

The Nyoda Club, sponsored by Dean Mary Ward, will hold its first meeting of the spring semester in the Activities Room, Friday, at twelve-fifteen.

The president of the club, Kathleen Semple, with the co-operation of all the members is planning an interesting program. The Nyoda Club is a social welfare organization and in the past has succeeded in conducting a very strenuous program. Although the members are very active and haven't much time to devote to affairs other than social service work, they are planning a theatre party as their bit of recreation.

Dean Ward Explains Committee Decision For Two Midterms

In a recent interview with Dean Mary A. Ward concerning the plan of adopting the policy of giving two mid-terms, she expressed the opinion of the members of the scholarship committee. Speaking for them she says, "The scholarship committee is very enthusiastic over the two mid-term policy, because it feels that many freshmen fail, not from lack of ability, but from the fact it takes them quite a while to realize that the competition in college is much keener than the competition in high school. By giving a mid-term after the first six weeks the students are given the opportunity to see if their programs are too heavy, and also, to see which subject is giving them the most difficulty."

Cast For New Play Partially Selected

An incompleat cast for the "Black Flamingo" the College Theatre's first play of the semester, to be held at the Western Women's Club March 13, includes the following characters: Popo, John Evans; The Priest, Claude Orwin; Diana, Frances Burge; Francois, Don Pryor; Mme Bodier, Elena Foppiano; Clotilde, Eunice Humphreys; Trigand, Bill Connolly; Gavroche, John Lafka; and Charlotte, Florence Humphreys.

Miss Jessie Casebolt's stage craft class will make up the characters for the play. They have been practicing the art of make-up for the past two weeks and expect to be quite adept by March 13.

The College Theatre held its installation of officers and welcome for new members in the stagecraft room at four o'clock Monday, January 26. Mr. John Lafka was admitted to this organization after a belated try-out.

Dance Scheduled To Follow Program On College Field

Freshmen To Gather All Fuel In First Blaze Of Term

In keeping with the tradition set last semester, the second Frosh Bonfire Rally will be held on the campus, Wednesday, February 11, at four o'clock. The rally this semester will be given on a much larger scale than the last one. Last semester the Bonfire Rally, to welcome the freshmen, was given as an experiment and was received with such interest and enthusiasm from the whole student body that the executive board decided to have a similar rally every term.

At four o'clock the students will assemble on the field where Viola Giesen will address them and introduce President A. Roberts, the speaker of the afternoon. Following Dr. Roberts' welcome, Catherine O'Sullivan, president of the student body, will address the students. After the speeches, a brawl between the freshmen and the upper-classmen will be staged. Four or five contests, such as, a tug of war and handicap races, under the direction of Coach David Cox, will be given for the entertainment of the faculty and student body. At six-thirty a camp supper will be served hot to the students for the price of twenty-five cents a plate. By the time dinner has been eaten, it will be dark enough for the bonfire. The fire, built by the freshmen, will be lighted. The students will serpentine around the blaze, giving the new college songs and yells, headed by the student body yell leader, Dorothy Williamson, and her assistants: Dorothy Bartels and George Gillespie. While the fire is burning, a novel event, in the form of a spot-light party, will be given.

After the fire, there will be dancing in the gymnasium for all students.

Viola Giesen and Marion Donaldson who are co-chairmen of this traditional affair, are assisted by the following committee: Jack Crowley, Don Horner, Sherry O'Rourke, Bob Peterson, Frank Howard, Marjorie Phillips, Alice Zander, Marian Tardiff, Dot Williamson, Margaret Marick, Louise Mico, Betty Mohler, Marian Phillips, Dot Asher, Ciwa Griffiths, and Lillian Tyrrell.

THE ONCE OVER

by James W. Stinchcomb

If you are animadversive, you have noticed: Catherine O'Sullivan's cordial countenance . . . the romantic aspirations of Chester McGrath . . . Allen Wyatt's ability to keep away from the ladies . . . Webster Allen's lack of superfluous action . . . Walter Bartman's height (76 inches) . . . Viola Giesen's assiduousness . . . the euphonious name, Novelle Berling . . . George Belieu's ability to keep his hair on his forehead . . . Ed Plutette's boyishness.

Having observed carefully, this writer is convinced that the hands of men instructors always tremble as they distribute test papers. Watch and see.

Some exactly quoted conversation follows: "Oh, Dr. . . . I think this course is so interesting. The hour goes so fast." She is a student who contrives to sit as near to Dr. . . . as possible. She is a student who does not know that apple polishing requires tact if one is to impress, to one's advantage, one's instructor.

Students of education are familiar with the word correlation. Considering it in this wise, the question is asked, "Is there not invariably a negative correlation between gum chewing and attainment?"

A little bird told me: The presidents of three large organizations were in the midst of a chatting group in the Activities Room—during the first assembly of the semester.

Sphinx Club Plans February Banquet

Gathering for the second time this term, the Sphinx Club met in room 109, January 16, at four o'clock, with the president, Eleanor Burch, in charge.

The club elected Frank Howard for the office of secretary. A discussion followed on the holding of night meetings. All the members were not in favor of the motion, and the final decision was for the club to have a regular meeting once a month that will extend longer than the hour and after which refreshments will be served. The prospect of a banquet was also discussed and it was decided to hold it at the Crock of Gold, February 15, at seven o'clock.

The Sphinx members then turned their attention to Ibsen and his plays. Dr. E. T. Arnesen, sponsor, who knows Ibsen personally, gave a vivid, though not particularly flattering, description of the great dramatist. An interesting discussion of his plays followed which pertained largely to his stand on women's rights.

Game Finishes In Student Tragedy

If this be child's play, make the most of it. The other day the class in P. E. 50 was learning a game to teach the children in the training school. Just a simple little game, the kind in which one player is "it" and must chase the rest. It went on merrily for a while, the class becoming more and more excited until two of the girls became too enthusiastic, a collision followed and, well, one of them is now the proud possessor of a black eye and a sprained ankle. Just a simple little game, the very thing to teach the kiddies.

Glee Club To Honor Frosh At Tea Today

Members of the Glee Club will give a tea this afternoon at four o'clock in honor of the freshman group that has joined the club this semester.

A Japanese motif will predominate the decorations and in the entertainment. Eureka Hatta and a group of her friends will serve. Dr. Edna Barney, Miss Ethel England, Mrs. Mary McCauley, and Miss Eva Levy, sponsors of the club are to be in the receiving line.

A number of the old members of the Glee Club will act in the capacities of hostesses during the afternoon. They include Rose Berry, Betty Moller, Marian Phillips, Ola Briggs, Amelia Marks, Eva Starcevitch, Mildred Scott, Katherine Schurtz, Betty Stevenson, Pauline Draper, and Kathryn Hurley. Louise Miel is in charge of this afternoon's affair. Working with her are Lillian Tyrrell, who is in charge of the decorations, and Audrey Moore, who has planned the refreshments.

Today is the last day that new members will be taken into the club for this semester.

Mr. Butler Explains About Professors

Piggly Wiggly Professor??

Wordless questions filled the classroom, but were soon answered when Mr. John Butler defined the question he had created by remarking that there were many Piggly - Wiggly professors.

"A Piggly Wiggly professor is one who has the goods, but doesn't deliver it," he said, and went on to tell of his efforts in acquiring the technique of teaching and of some of his personal experiences.

"I took two courses in public speaking in college. At the end of the time the professor called me to him and said to me, 'I am giving you a 'C' on effort, but you'll never make a public speaker. However, let me give you some advice: Watch all the good speakers you can and always take the opportunity to speak, whenever anyone is foolish enough to ask you.'"

"And so," concluded Mr. Butler, "no matter how terrible it is, whenever anyone rashly asks me, I speak."

Prexy Plans Trip East

Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of the college, spent Thursday and Friday, January 22 and 23, at the state capital taking care of budget matters.

Dr. Roberts is planning to attend the superintendents' convention and meeting of the National Association of Teacher Colleges at Detroit, Michigan. There will be opportunity for Dr. Roberts to visit vocational schools, junior colleges, and teacher colleges both on the way to, and the return from, Detroit. The trip will take place in the latter part of February.

Women's Club Reads

Hauptmann's "Sunken Bell" was chosen by the members of the Faculty Women's Reading Club as the topic of discussion for the first meeting, which was held at the home of Miss Hilda Holmes and Miss Cecilia Anderson, Thursday, January 29.

President's Message Given At Assembly

The first assembly of the semester was held at the First Baptist Church, at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, January 22. The principal speakers of the afternoon were: Dr. A. C. Roberts, president of the college; Catherine O'Sullivan, president of the student body; and Viola Giesen, chairman of assemblies. In their speeches they attempted to impress upon the students the crisis which faces the student body. "At the present time," Catherine O'Sullivan said, "the student body has reached a point where it is no longer progressive or forward-looking. It is at a standstill." She said this with regard to the present system of student government. She also urged the students to interest themselves in making the college go forward, and not backward, at this point.

The new members of the faculty were introduced by President Roberts.

Viola Giesen urged everyone to attend every assembly and rally given this semester.

Geography Students To Hear Lectures

Two lectures will be given to the students of S. S. 20 and S. S. 122 at the Frederic Burk Auditorium. The first of these lectures will have as its topic the "Blackfoot Indians and Glacier National Park," and will be given February 2 at 10 and 2 o'clock. The second lecture will be given February 25 at the same times.

Herbert C. White and J. Henry White who have been in the Orient for seven years will speak about the Highlights of Chinese Civilization. Their lecture will be accompanied by an Art Exhibition, showing the monuments of Chinese Civilization and the "Birthplace of Her Art." The brothers will be dressed in the native Chinese costume.

The lecture, illustrated with exquisitely colored screen pictures, will deal principally with the wonderful architectural forms and creations of the Chinese people during the three periods of the Yuan, the Ming, and Chang Dynasties (1260 to 1911 A. D.). This period marks the zenith of Chinese Architectural achievements, giving to China and the world the remarkable works of such artist-emperors as Yung Loh, K'ang Hsi, and the Empress Dowager, Tze Hsi.

Male Population Initiates Spring

Four male members of S. T. C.'s student body were undoubtedly struck with spring fever the other day. One of the sprightly fellows, unable to restrain his joyous nature any longer, suddenly broke into the dainty steps of the well known Spring Dance, using, of course, the appropriate arm movements.

Meanwhile, a feminine member of the faculty, who prefers to be known as Madame X, in this article, had appeared upon the scene, apparently unnoticed by the dancer, for his hand

Frederic Burk Has Novel Art Exhibit

Students interested in art, and students interested in the advancement of the college and the advancement of Frederic Burk; students interested in the material with which they will someday do their practice teaching—attention!

This week the Parent-Teachers Association of Frederic Burk are conducting an art exhibition in the training auditorium. In connection with the Colonial Art Company of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, one hundred and fifty colored reproductions of famous pictures, both of old and new masters, are being exhibited.

Ninety-four artists are being represented, among the most important are: Corot, Da Vinci, Inness, Millet, Reynolds, Vincent, Wiegand, Gainsborough, Landseer, and Van Dyke.

Admission is ten cents for children and students and twenty-five cents for adults. Mrs. Cooch will be glad to discuss the pictures with any interested groups. All proceeds are to go for the purchasing of one or two dozens of pictures for the Frederic Burk school.

Siena Initiation Held Monday Night

Siena Club held its formal initiation for freshmen Monday, February 2, at eight o'clock, in the club house. After the new members had taken the pledge of the club, they were welcomed by Margaret Lemon, president of the club; Miss Nell Sullivan, sponsor; and Mrs. F. Sullivan, the house mother.

The regular night meeting was then held. When all the business had been transacted, and the meeting adjourned, an entertainment was given for the new members. Later in the evening refreshments were served.

Irene Madigan was chairman of the occasion and she was ably assisted by her committee of Ruth Delaney, Alice Madigan, Lena Pacioni, Lorraine Walsh, Marie Spezia, and Teresa Denser.

Dames Club Entertain

On Friday evening, February 6, the Dames Club will give a dinner at the Crock of Gold, in honor of faculty members who have spoken before them during the past semester. Each member will be called upon to contribute a stunt, and a jolly time is assured.

Dean Ward Addresses Dames' Club Members

In an inspiring talk before the members of the Dames Club Wednesday noon, Dean Ward spoke of the adjustment of married women to college.

"Married women who return to college are controlled by a strong motive to succeed," said Dean Ward. "Sometimes they defeat their own purpose through fear that they will not succeed."

Dean Ward recommended that the students make out a program both for study and for home responsibilities, and that they do not carry too heavy a program. She asked the club to have two representatives in the Advisory Group, and to advise the new married students in regard to their programs. The club should take a stand on problems that arise, and go on record as sponsoring or opposing them, she advised.

Dean Ward also spoke upon professional opportunities of women, and stated that one must become a leader in the professional world; that, although experience, maturity, and training help a teacher, she must have something special to contribute in order to achieve leadership. She advised the students to seek special fields, and pointed out the opportunities open to them.

In conclusion Dean Ward welcomed the students to the institution and assured them of her willingness to help them with the solution of their problems at any time.

Weekly Story Hour Held For Children

The Children's Library started its regular Story Hour last Friday at one o'clock. Miss Hermine Henze, the children's librarian, was delighted to find that, in spite of realistic age in which the world is now living, the fifty children that were present still loved to hear the wonder tales that never seem to grow old. "The Twelve Wild Ducks" and "The Stolen Charm," old favorites, were requested by the children.

The stories chosen for this hour are taken from folk-lore of all nations, including myths from the Norse, and Japanese fairy tales. The adventures of Loki, Thor, and their fellow gods seem to capture the imagination of the children just as much as stories of enchantment and the making and breaking of charms. The Frederic Burk children look forward each week to the future story hours.

STATERS CONQUER LOWELL CARDINALS TWICE

INSIDE STORY

Has anyone noticed that dashing little fellow with the ingratiating smile? His cognomen is Lee Alderman, and he is quite an athlete in his own right. Lee, among his other accomplishments has been an active participant in many of Polytechnic High track meets of the past. At present, Lee is helping the State 30's make their presence felt.

Lee wants it known far and wide that he is a very genial personable young man and by no means a woman-hater. Lee is also considered to be one of the point winners on State's track team.

Rumors have it that the Marin game will be State's big game this season. The game is scheduled for Friday night, at 8 p. m., February 6. A large crowd is expected to attend the game which is to be played in the College Gym, and it is almost assured that those who attend will see plenty of action and color. The Marin game will undoubtedly be one of State's hardest games this season as the Mariners are reputed to be the team to beat in the Junior college conference. The Mariners have a veteran team this year and will go into the contest as heavy favorites to cop the game.

Presidio, S.T.C. Mermen To Hold Swimming Meet

The Presidio Swimming Club of San Francisco has requested a meet with the S. T. C. mermen. The invitation will be accepted and a meet held at the Presidio Swimming Club pool, which is located at the Presidio Y. M. C. A.

The men composing the State swimming team are expected to be in good shape for this meet as several practice sessions have already been held. Frank Howard, the team manager, states that his expectations have been more than fulfilled by the showing of swimmers so far.

P. E. Class Divided

The Freshmen Physical Education classes are filled to capacity. Because the classes are so full, a total of 324 being the number of students entered, Mrs. Bridge has divided her basketball classes into elementary, intermediate, and advanced groups. There will be three or four weeks of practice before the inter-section tournament will be played off.

COACH COX
says

Some of the men students of State are showing the right spirit, being for sport teams where inter-collegiate competition is offered. Track has already started with a bit of a start-up; basketball, although barely over, brought forth some of the best material available; and the sports to come, tennis, swimming, and football, await untold prospects.

These sports not only provide physical education for every student, but also give him a chance for collegiate competition. S. T. C. teams are now laying a foundation for high class interscholastic events that are sure to come when adequate facilities are obtained on the campus.

Varsity Meets Marin And Humboldt Teams In Battles Friday

In what will probably be their hardest game of the season, the State Varsity and lightweight cagers will meet the Marin Junior College varsity basketball team and the Humboldt Evening High lightweights on Friday night at 8 p. m. The Mariners, with a veteran team, will be heavy favorites to take the contest, but, taking the Lowell game in consideration, the Staters are about due to play the best basketball they are capable of playing. The State defense is functioning fairly well, but the offense is still ragged, many shots being wasted and passes being thrown away. The lightweights will also be the underdogs in their contest, as the Humboldt Evening cagers have just finished a most successful season, being the finalists in the local P. A. A. basketball tournament. The 30's have been showing lots of fight in their last three games and a great game is expected.

Practice is being held throughout the week to determine the starting lineup. Coach Cox has shifted his first team around, due to the fine showing of Bell and Mendelsohn in the last games. The lightweight starting lineup also is still in doubt.

A banner crowd is expected to attend the games, as they are to be played at night allowing many of the students who work after school to see the teams. The Bookstore has ordered rooters' caps for the game, and the yell leaders will be expected to do their stuff in the way of bringing up the pep that has been so sadly lacking in the last three games.

Probable State lineups are as follows:

Varsity	30's
Bell	King
Mendelsohn	Thomas
Henry	Gemagnini
Garden	Trager
Kaufman	Fisher

College Ditch-Diggers Labor For "Old State"

Casual observers noticing, on the stretch of ground between college and Anderson halls, the swinging picks and busy shovels manipulated by fellow students, may have watched with growing admiration what appeared to be a worth-while expression of zeal for "dear old State."

However, let no halos of glory rest falsely on the steaming brows of the collegiate ditch diggers, for their labor is not really a labor of love. These weary collegians, struggling under a beating sun, are the unwary victims of Coach Cox, a man whose genial smile hides the hard heart of a disciplinarian.

Last year, many men in physical education classes decided at various times to deprive the class of their presence to pursue more tempting pursuits. Incomplete grades for last term's work prompted deficient students to make up for lost time by "the blister and back-ache method," digging pits for practice in track events such as the pole-vault, broad jump, and high jump.

Bob Kleckner was elected captain of the 1931 Gray Fog football team at a banquet given to grid athletes at the U. S. F. college hall on January 22. Kleckner is also co-captain of the track team for the coming season.

Kleckner, an all-around athlete, has but one more year of competition, having already been in athletics three years.

Jimmy Needles, coach of the U. S. F. basketball team, has been spurned by Lady Luck. His hard-working hoop squad has been devastated by injuries and sickness. First, Al Piliard, star center, was injured and lost to the team. Charlie Nussbaum, substitute to Piliard, is now out of the game because of injuries. Finally, Bob Kleckner, the best guard on the Fog squad, and Elmer Garrigan, forward, were forced out of competition temporarily due to influenza.

Athletes of Sacramento Junior College are embarking on a busy season of competition in sports. The Panther crew, presented with a new shell by the University of California last year, expects a successful campaign, with at least two races with the California Bears planned, and high hopes for a race against Oregon on the Sacramento River.

Track prospects are bright at the Sacramento institution, with the return of several lettermen and the expected support of transfers of known ability.

The Panther hoop squad, conference champions of 1930, are drilling under a new coach and a new basketball system. The Panther cage men have games with Chico, Marin, and Menlo under their belts, and while the team has not quite assimilated the new style of play advocated by Coach Earle, the Sacramento quintet has broken even in its early starts.

Oarsmen at the University of California last week dipped their paddles in the waters of the Estuary for the first crew practice of the season.

"Stenogs" Like Golf

The office force is turning athletic. Mrs. Spiers of Miss Hussey's office, Miss Kettelhut of Miss Vance's office, and Mrs. Freeman of Dean DuFour's office have all expressed their intentions of joining the Golf Club.

So from now on, between the hours of four to six daily, they'll be out shooting holes-in-one.

Dean Cox Assures Moral Support To S. T. C. Golf Club

"Now, please, don't ask too many questions about my game of golf," quotes Dean Cox radiating a big smile. "I'm very fond of golf, and you may be assured of my moral support in the Golf Club, even if I don't like being asked about my score." This relieved Ruth Sturgeon, president of the club a great deal.

Do you know what the Golf Club really is? Don't you get an indescribable thrill or sensation when you see a man or woman carrying a bag with a half dozen or more clubs, and sort of wish that you could go along too? Well, you can and here's the way. Join the Golf Club this very minute, be you male or female, all are welcome. Ask your chum to come along too. This isn't a professional club even if trophies are given each semester.

There will be two silver trophies given during this spring semester. One trophy for low medal score and the other for low putting score. The president, Ruth Sturgeon, is planning a tournament between San Jose State and S. T. C. at the annual Play Day which will be held in San Francisco in April. Besides the tournaments, members are anticipating short trips to other golf links in the bay region.

The new officers, elected for this term are: Ruth Sturgeon, president; Steller Oksen, vice president; and Sue Barnett, secretary-treasurer. Dues are fifty cents a semester and are payable to Miss Barnett.

Bill Magner Runner In 8-Mile Cross-City Race

Bill Magner, winner of last year's Dipsea Trail race, and at present a member of S. T. C.'s 130 pound basketball team, finished well up among the list of seventy finishers in the annual cross-city race run Sunday, February 1.

The eight mile marathon was run on wet streets and was won in the rather slow time of 44:28 minutes. Magner was one of the thirty-six athletes who crossed the finish line in less than fifty-one minutes. The State athlete, running under the colors of the Olympic Club, finished in 50:41. The winner was Jackie Keegan, also of the Olympics.

Coach Cox expects great things of Magner in the distance events which Bill is entered in for collegiate competition.

Sophs Respond To Call

The Women's Athletic Association has a very promising year ahead of it. An attractive poster was put in College Hall requesting the students interested in basketball to sign up. The Sophomore class came out with the highest number of turn-outs. All are urged to attend the tournaments that are to be held in March.

STATE STAGES SURPRISE BY DEFEATING LOWELL

State did it after all. They defeated Lowell in both games last Friday in decisive fashion. The score of the Varsity game was 24-16. State led at half time 9-8 after trailing the losers during most of the period. The last half saw the Staters increase their lead, but the spectators were always on edge, expecting one of Lowell's famous last minute spurts would snatch

Sport Award System Completed By Staff

At a meeting of the Athletics Managerial Staff and Coach David Cox, Tuesday, January 27, the proposed award system for collegiate recognition of athletics was completed. The scheme of awarding has been placed in the hands of Catherine O'Sullivan, president of the student body, previous to referendum by the students at large.

Christmas may be virtually a season of peace on earth when it brings with it both "Cakes and Ale," or The Skeleton in the Cupboard, W. Somerset Maugham's novel, and greater leisure in which to examine it.

One reads of the controversy which the book has aroused. There was an eminent English novelist who died a few years ago. His name was Thomas Hardy, and it seems that there are those who believe Mr. Maugham is desecrating that name in this novel.

It is true that the lives of Hardy and the Edward Driffield of Maugham's creation are in a general way parallel. There is not, however, anything so derogatory in Driffield's life that its portrayal should degrade the memory of Thomas Hardy, presuming that his life formed the pattern of the story.

Mr. Maugham comments in a satirical manner on good form in beliefs, of God and of Pan, and then of Beauty, at whose shrines the literati have successively worshipped. He suggests that the House of Lords assume the responsibility of producing literature; the lower ranks of the nobility adhering to Journalism and the drama, and so on up the scale of the peerage and literature.

Former Janitor Is Now Apple Vender

When asked of his impression of the college, a broad, friendly smile spread over the face of Mr. John B. Lee, unemployed, apple salesman at Anderson gate.

"Well," he said, "I've never seen such a cheerful group of students anywhere, best natured, and more smiles. In fact I've never heard an unpleasant word among them. I used to be a janitor at Stanford. The attitude of students here is so much like Stanford."

Mr. Lee has been at his post for three days. His permit expires February 1 when it is renewed, he hopes to return here with bigger and more juicy apples.

Male Is Shunned

Much to the consternation of members of Mrs. Sarah Scott's natural dancing class, a "man" was admitted. Upon his entrance, a mass meeting was expected to be called. In fact, one young lady, with decidedly antiquated ideas, was the instigator in ousting this male participant. Other reports state that he is a good "prancer". Mayhap he outshines the feminine members—who knows? At any rate he is out and all because some people still have antediluvian ideas. Oh well!

Terrier: "The law allows me only one bite and I'm saving it for the dame who talks baby talk to me."

Bertha Burgh: Oh, no. You mean "Hail San Francisco."

Bob Peterson: "Why do Scotchmen prefer blondes?"

Natalie Beggs: "I really don't know. Why?"

Bob: "Because of the light overhead."

Dot Williamson: (Interviewing Everett O'Rourke) "What is it you lie on, sit on, and clean your teeth with?"

Mr. O'Rourke: "Now that is rather puzzling. Oh I say, what is it?"

Dot Williamson: "A bed, a chair, and a toothbrush."

Prof: "Now we have come to the conclusion that nothing is impossible."

Sid Trager: "All right, try to jam an umbrella down your throat and then open it."

Freshies Clean and Decorate Large and Busy Activity Room

FRESHMEN ARE POPULAR PEOPLE! For to be in a frosh's shoes is to be in the shoes of one whose services are in great demand!!!

The other day, according to schedule, S. T. C.'s Executive Board met to discuss many student body matters of great importance. Among these discussions, there arose the problem of how to keep the college's Activities Room in an attractive condition following its almost immediate acquisition of proper furnishings.

So about this question, the board thought and thought. Finally, out popped the ideal proposition—a proposition which was instantaneously carried in motion form, receiving only two opposing votes!

This opposition, coming from Bob Peterson and Don Horner who are the respective presidents of the freshmen classes, was completely wiped out by the otherwise unanimous decision of the rest of the Executive Board.

From this day on, all members of the high and low freshmen classes are to be directly responsible for the neat appearance of the Activities Room. For instance, "freshies" have to bring fresh spring flowers every morn to satisfy the artistic tastes of upperclassmen.

The Executive Board, which is the official acting body of San Francisco State, is determined to enforce, if necessary, this new movement concerning the latest relations between the Activities Room and the popular frosh!!!

College Support

How about that college spirit? How is it coming along? A few members of this student-body and some members of the faculty are gradually waking up, and that diminutive number can give themselves a pat on the back.

At last our student body functions are seemingly being supported. At least 800 members of this college were interested enough to turn out for the Freshmen Reception last Wednesday. The majority of those persons came to support this college function in the true spirit. A few acted as if they came just for the "cats." We wonder.

There should, without doubt, be as large, if not larger, a turnout for all other college activities this semester.

There's the Frosh Bonfire Rally next week, and there should be 1,140 S. T. C. students out on the field that day brimming over with college spirit. At the games there certainly should be just as many supporting the team. Let's see them.

The conclusion here drawn is, then, that what is needed here at S. T. C. is more of this college spirit that is just beginning to ooze out, and that getting it and holding it is up to YOU.

December '33 Will See College Play

Hurrah! and three cheers! At last there is something around here that is beginning to look like College Spirit!

At the January meeting of the December '33 class, the subject of social events was the main topic of discussion. The members decided they would like to have a dinner and theatre party. After considerable debate, the College Theatre play, "The Black Flamingo" which is to be presented Friday, March 13, was chosen for their destination.

Mrs. McCauley Gives Tickets To Students

Mrs. Mary McCauley, Professor of Music, commends the generosity of the San Francisco Symphony Society. This week she received 150 student tickets to the Sunday Symphony, which is conducted by Issay Dubrown. These tickets were available to students in the music department, who exhausted the supply within a few hours.

Mrs. McCauley states that owing to the large enrollment in Music 53, it has been necessary to form an "overflow" class.

TERTIUM QUID

Today, Tertium bows low before thy shrine, oh worthy members of the student body!!!

And here in his lowly state, he begs to commend you upon your marvelous display of COLLEGE SPIRIT. For there is nothing to compare with it. You are so loyal, so true!

Why, there is absolutely NO college affair which you do not support! That is why everything done around here goes over with such a BANG! That is why all college activities are just one triumph after another. Oh yes! We know the secret of our success lies in the fact that you and I stick so closely together that not ONE single student body affair gets a chance to "flop."

And yet, some people decry our college spirit. They claim that we are a mass of "dead heads." They say that we don't attend this and we don't attend that. They even go so far as to say that it is impossible for us to act like loyal States because at heart we're only a collection of flat tires! Yes—so wall these everlasting sob sisters who must have some sad theme to cry about!

Now, Tertium is beginning to believe that the whole business about our lack of college spirit is a lot of propaganda! People must have something to talk about—something to write about. And that's exactly why you read so many BAY LEAF editorials to this effect, as well as TERTIUM QUIDS. For even newspaper men run out of material every once in a while.

DO WE REALLY LACK COL-

LEGE SPIRIT? Not on your life, you answer in chorus.

For, just consider our basketball games. The support they get is UNIQUE. Such backing-up is totally incomparable. There is NO college on the Pacific Coast that can ever hope to equal the WAY WE TURN OUT FOR THESE GAMES!

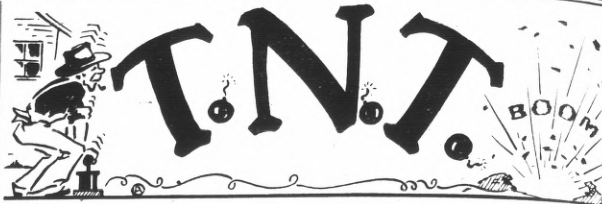

Yes sir! The whole student body backs up our fighting hoopers. No wonder they go out to win.

Weeks ahead we procure our tickets for each of these quintet battles. Daily, the Co-op store is filled to capacity with eager, pushing students tearing this way and that trying to get near the ticket counter!!!

I ask you, folks, did you ever get a good look at the gate receipts taken in at one of our games? What you would see, if you did look, would be a darn good EYE-OPENER! Such receipts are unbelievable! They are far beyond your expectations—so far, that you can not see them with the naked eye. YOU NEED A POWERFUL TELESCOPE. Just ask Coach Cox, Al Wyatt, or Sid Trager—they'll tell you!

Furthermore, the other day, I found out from authentic sources the exact amount of tickets sold on Thursday, the day before our game with Lowell High. Can you imagine how many tickets were sold? ONE—That's all—just one!!! And I can kick myself that I didn't buy it. How about you, oh loyal supporters of S. T. C.???

Aren't you proud? Aren't you pleased to know that no other un-

Let's Have Rooting

Dear T. N. T.:—
No wonder this school has no spirit at all.

In the first place, when and if students ever show up at the games, they sit there like so many Englishmen at a horse race. Never open their mouths, couldn't think of being so uncouth as to cheer their team when they win a point. How do they ever expect the men to be able to act without just a little bit of encouragement?

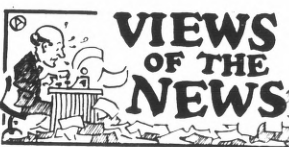

At a recent game, one of the men on the team who had been put out for fouls left the game and went home, instead of waiting to see how his team mates came out. That is real spirit. Not even interested to see his own team win.

Why don't the people in this school get together and try to create a little school spirit? Freshmen, it's up to you.

What's The Cure?

Dear T. N. T.:—
A serious disease was prevalent at S. T. C. last term. We hope this little reminder may help to check the epidemic, if not to prevent its recurrence. This contagious disease is GABELLITIS. Sufferers of this illness are especially noticeable at assemblies, chorus, and glow club affairs, and in the back seats of large classes. It is not necessarily fatal to the victim, but is known to cause extreme irritation among those who are immune.

GABELLITIS has three well-defined stages. In the first or cold stage, the victim is mildly indifferent to those about him. In the second or hot stage, his lips and tongue begin to twitch. In the third or sweating stage, he may become quite violent. His lips and tongue continue to twitch, although more rapidly, and he mutters continuously. This is the most violent stage and those unfortunate sitting near him have to "grin and bear it," or else give him a dirty look, which the sufferer cannot interpret.

There is no positive cure, but adhesive tape across the mouth, or the occupation of a front row seat might help.

—One Immune.

Scented Weeds Needed

For the last few weeks, articles on the opinions of various students and professors on "woman smoking" have appeared in the Bay Leaf. Perhaps the Bay Leaf would be kind enough to feature a column on "Why College Men Rock of Tobacco?"

It is impossible to sit next to a tobacco-smoker. Not only does the odor of tobacco permeate the room, but it also penetrates one's clothing. Although most of the windows are opened, the smell of burnt rubber prevails. It would be kinder of these "he-men" to remember their fellowmen and smoke perfumed weeds.

—M. L.

Musicians Squelched

At the noon hour, many students like to spend part of their time in practicing lessons for the various music classes. Considering the fact that there are too few pianos in this school, why is it necessary for a P. E. teacher to hold a conference with two students in one of the few rooms in College Hall which contains a piano?

Industrious

Sincerity Doubted

Dear T. N. T.:—
I sometimes doubt the sincerity of the T. N. T. writers. They seem to be expressing some trivial wish, merely for the wish of seeing their work in print. Another thing that seems quite obvious is that the group contributing to this column seems more intent upon making its comments facetious, than upon any real good that may be derived.

Quartet To Try Out

Those interested in trying out for the new string quartet should begin to practice up immediately. Miss Ellen McCall, sponsor of the quartet, intends to hold the try-outs within the next week.

Students must be prepared with one composition to be played as a first part of the try-out. There will also be a sight-reading test.

Reason Found For Women's Lateness

It is an every day sight in the women's gymnasium to see some of the young lassies slip into their gym "outfits" in about five minutes.

Then, they rush to the long mirror, and stand arranging, and re-arranging belt buckles; rolling, and unrolling socks; and frilling and frizzing in general.

After a period of ten minutes of aforesaid primping, they dutifully look up into the face of the clock, and cry with amazement and alarm, "Oh, dear, I never can get into this old gym suit. It takes so long. I'll be late for class again today."
